To fall in love

Verdener Auction in August on August 5./6.

Verden. The Verden auction with foals and broodmares will be held on August 5 and 6. Breeding and sports meet on the premises of the Verden

Niedersachsenhalle: 101 foals and 10 broodmares will be put up for auction on the occasion of the International Dressage and Show Jumping Festival. The perfect opportunity to directly fall in love with one of the stars of the future.

The extraordinary pedigrees of the foals and broodmares of the Verden August auction perfectly match this extraordinary event. The sires of the foals are no less than top stallions, having confirmed their potential and quality at the international sports level. Bred to successful dam lines of the Hanoverian and Rhenish breed, the offspring are outstandingly brilliant futurity stars. Many well-known successful careers started in Verden. And many of these careers are even more up-to-date than ever. Don Luis by Dimaggio/Rubinstein is, for example, not only a successful and exemplary Grand Prix-horse, discovered at the 2005 Verden Foal Auction, he also shows up on the FEI longlist for the Olympics in Rio de Janeiro to represent France in the dressage arena. He is one of the most successful French dressage horses with his rider Karen Tebar. Don Luis was born in the stable of breeder Karl Tuitjer in Hesel.

The foal collection

101 foals will represent the age-group of foals, born April 15 to May 31, 2016. The collection includes 66 colts and 35 fillies, descending from 65 different sires. Successful international show jumping bloodlines dominate the pedigrees of the show jumping foals. Zirocco Blue, Tangelo van de Zuithoeve, Arezzo, Singular LS La Silla and Kannan are only some of the names of the fantastic, internationally successful stallions The

Hannoveraner Rhythmus

Celle National State Stud is represented with 11 of its stallions. The collection features each two foals of the young stallions Fürst Belissaro and Qualito.
