Spring shopping in May

Verden auction postponed to May 30

Verden. Owing to the current situation caused by the corona virus, the Verden auction on April 18, 2020 will not take place. Subject to further developments, the auction has been postponed to May 30. Selected riding horses and the first representatives of the 2020 vintage will then invite you to spring shopping in the Niedersachsenhalle.

Due to official regulations in Germany, the event in the Niedersachsenhalle is not feasible on this day. Due to the temporary standstill of the travel traffic, especially foreign customers are not expected to come in April for testing, the Hannoveraner Verband have also abandoned the idea of an online auction for the time being.

A foal auction is planned for this day in Verden. The riding horses from the April collection are added to the collection of foals. Whether riding horses and foals are to be auctioned on the same day or on two different days, will still be decided. The delivery of the riding horses would then take place in Verden in the usual rhythm, i.e. on 18 May.

The catalogue has been printed, the photos, videos and descriptions of the horses can be found on our homepage: www.hannoveraner.com
