Foal and brood mares will be presented at Verden International

Verden. The combination of breeding and sport is close to the heart of the Hannoveraner Verband. On August 9th and 10th the Verden Foal and Broodmare Auction will be integrated into the event concept of the big horse show "Verden International". On Friday evening the foals with jumping genes will have their big appearance from 6 p.m. onwards. On Saturday evening the Niedersachsenhalle belongs to the dressage foals from 6 p.m. onwards. The presentations of the foals on the show grounds will be broadcast live on the internet from 1 p.m. on both days.

The team around Jörg-Wilhelm Wegener has carefully selected an exquisite collection of 124 young hopefuls. "We are happy about the great response at the pre-selection dates. With the collection of foals for the Verden auction in August we can offer a high quality of young horses with both dressage and jumping pedigrees", says the auction manager. 38 foals with a jumping pedigree will be for sale on Friday evening, August 9 - 24 of them colts and 14 filly foals. The stallion Chacoon Blue has three offspring, two foals each are by Chacfly PS, Conthargos, Diacontinus, Karajan, Ogano and Qualito. The number one stallion, Quite Coloured by Quickthago VDL/Atlantus van de Roshoeve, presents himself in a particularly interesting coat. The Rhineland foal was bred by Manuel Fehlhaber, Weste, and immediately attracted the attention of all spectators during the selection on the Verden triangle. Saturday, August 10th, is all about dressage foals. 86 youngsters with strong movements and interesting pedigrees are for sale. The 47 colt and 40 filly foals come from 59 different sires. The celebrated premium stallion of the Hanoverian licensing 2017, Escamillo, is represented by seven offspring from his first crop.
