Quite Chacco at the beginning of a great career

135th Elite-Auction in Verden

Verden. Once again it is a show jumping horse who achieved the top price of the Verden Elite-Auction. Quite Chacco was sold at 160,000 Euros in Olympic hands and. For the most expensive foal, Fabulosa, 62,000 Euros were invested. The two-year-old stallions, who rounded off the highly interesting offer like last year, had their highlight with 39,000 Euros for the chestnut Quick Decision.

In the sold out Niedersachsenhalle, the auction quickly picked up speed. Top prices were already paid for the first coveted talents. Nevertheless, it was only within the last five horses that the decision in the race for the top price was made. The licensed stallion Quite Chacco by Quaid/Chacco-Blue (breeder: Staj Mustang, Lucina/CZO, exhibitor: Hannoveraner Verband, Verden), equipped with unlimited potential, sparked a veritable firework of bids. The bay could hardly have hit it better: Champion rider Cian O'Connor will take the power pack with him to Ireland for 160,000 Euros. Quite Chacco will not travel alone to the Green Island. Convinced of the exceptional quality, the successful show jumper and trainer bought three more promising Hanoverians at the auction.

The Fürstenball/Windspiel As daughter Future of W (breeder and exhibitor: ZG Werth, Moers) was no insider tip. The strong-moving, well-trained five-year-old has already competed at the Bundeschampionate in Warendorf in the past two years. In the Niedersachsenhalle, the Hanoverian premium candidate from the Rhineland was the most expensive dressage horse to be purchased from a first-class breeding and training stable in Sachsen-Anhalt for 125,000 Euros. With head number one, Best Of by Bordeaux/Fürstenball (breeder: Zuchthof Neumann-Ullrich, Innermanzing/AUT, Ausst.: Heiko Klausling, Eydelstedt) opened the dance in the Niedersachsenhalle with a knock down price of 80,000 Euros.

A total of 54 highly talented riding horses were sold for an average of 34,704 Euros. Ten horses were sold for 50,000 Euros and more. International buyers secured around half of the top-class collection. The largest group of buyers came from Spain with five purchases. "We are very pleased that the majority of the young horses are coming into stables that are successful on an international level in the dressage arena and in the show jumping ring," auction manager Jörg-Wilhelm Wegener said. "In Verden breeding and sport belong closely together".

After last year's positive experiences, 19 two-and-a-half year old stallions were auctioned. Experts discovered a colourful chestnut with outstanding movements. Quick Decision by Quaterhall/Rotspon (breeder and exhibitor: Blanka Heier, Armstorf) was sold to a top trainer in Baden-Württemberg for 39,000 Euros, who has also already gained Olympic medals. The representatives of the 2016 vintage found a new owner for an average of 18,211 Euros. Their export quota was also around 50 percent.

The auction of the 38 foals began with a real bang. After a lively bidding duel, the first foal, Fabulosa by For Romance/Depardieu (breeder and exhibitor: Alfred Melchers, Nußloch), was auctioned off for 62,000 Euros. Hanover's hopeful offspring cost an average of 9.945 Euros and was thus about 3,000 Euros above the result of the previous year. International customers liked the youngest, more than half of them will leave Germany.

The day before the auction, the Zuchtgemeinschaft Königs was honoured with the Hans Joachim Köhler-price as the most successful exhibitor at Auctions of the previous evaluation period. Eberhard and Bartholomäus Königs have been running an extremely successful Hanoverian breeding yard with a focus on dressage at the Klosterhof Bodenstein for many years. This year a foal and a riding horse from their breeding has already entered the Niedersachsenhalle in Verden.

Hannoveraner Rhythmus

Already in ten days the excellent quality in Verden finds an impressive continuation. The collection of the stallion licensing (24th to 26th October) and the stallion sales (27th October) was outstanding at the preselection and video dates.
