Verden Auction Online – Final opportunity!

Verden. The countdown is running. Exactly two more days are left for those interested in buying to take part in the first Verden Online-Auction of foals and secure one of the promising aspirants for dressage or show jumping.

"Click to happiness" will be the motto on Saturday, September 14, starting at 5 pm (CET), when the final bidding duel with a mouse click for Francie Bell Boa by For Romance, the number one in the Online-Auction, begins. Every five minutes, the auction continues in the order of the head numbers, with the exact end of the auction for each foal depending on the buyer's interest. With each incoming bid, the auction is then extended by a further five minutes until no further bidders bid within this time period.

Foals from proven breeders and dam lines, paired with well-proven performance sires as well as with young stallions of modern bloodlines, form the online collection. Of these, 17 are equipped with a dressage and 13 with a jumping pedigree. The complete collection with information about the pedigree, as well as detailed photo and video material, is available at www.verdener-auktion-online.com.

Bidding is easy as convenient and after a short registration, bids can be submitted for the individual auction offers. The bidder is informed of the status of the auction by e-mail – for example, he receives a message as soon as the bid is placed, he is outbid or he wins the bidding duel.
