137th Elite Auction of the Hannoveraner Verband

Verden. At the opening presentation last Saturday, the auction horses showed their skills for the first time in the live stream. Interested visitors were able to follow this live in the Niedersachsenhalle and on screens around the world. These sequences of the top-class talents are now available in the internet at www.verdener-auktion-online.com. The next presentation live and on the internet will follow on Wednesday, 7 October, from 2 pm CET.

43 dressage and 24 show jumping horses will be available at the auction on Saturday, 10 October. The exquisite selection will be completed by 21 foals and two-and-a-half-year-old sport stallions. The presentations will take place in Verden with a limited number of spectators, the auction will then run as an online auction.

On Wednesday, October 7th, the presentation will be available again in the livestream on www.verdener-auktion.de. The expert commentary will be provided by the successful dressage rider and trainer Heike Kemmer and a renowned show jumper. On Friday, October 9th, from 9 a.m. CET onwards, the 24 two-and-a-half-year-old stallions and 21 auction foals will be presented after the presentation of the the riding horses. They will also be auctioned online on Saturday. Spectators are welcome to attend this presentation in the Niedersachsenhalle, subject to the valid distance rules. Registration is required at auktion@hannoverner.com or tel. 0 42 31/67 37 50.

Since Sunday it has been possible to bid online for your personal favourites. The final phase of the online auction, the so-called Bid Up, for the riding horses will start on Saturday, 10 October, at 2 pm CET. The foals and colts will follow at 6 pm CET. Taking part in the Verden Auction Online is as easy as it is comfortable. After the registration at www.verdener-auktion-online.com you can already start.
